

Required Inputs:

(WASD): 4 keys to control movement, with W moving upwards, S moving downwards, A moving left and D moving right. These are chosen both due to their general standardization and their proximity to other keys

Space: Used to dodge attacks - easy to use while moving as it uses the thumb, and common practice typing techniques use the space bar as a resting place for the thumb

Left Click/Left Control: Used to attack - left click is more standard and easier to physically use, while left control allows for one-handed gameplay. Left control is chosen over left shift due to sticky keys, despite being less comfortable

Optional Inputs:

Mouse Movements: used to aim where the player is attacking (if player attacks are added)

1-0 number bar: Used for skills (if skills are added), generally standard when large arrays of skills are used, as they're not obtrusive and easy to customize. Alternative: q and e for smaller numbers of skills